

Thanks for trialing an educator license of Your Financial Story and wanting to bring your classroom into 21st century learning, you're awesome!

Please note that this is only a trial copy available to educators for classroom testing purposes. There are no reduced features in any of the below games, they are full respective copies of the game. You may not share any of the below links with any other persons.

Here is how you can receive your video game key and access to a browser based version:

Browser version (HTML5):

- The game can be played on any modern desktop browser (Chrome, Safari, Edge, Opera, FireFox, etc) or any mobile phone/tablet browser. It supports touch screen & keyboard controls.
- For modern internet connections, here is the HD browser version. This version is recommended as it includes full textures and ingame animations, improving the visual experience of the game.

  - Password: FinancialEducation
- For slower internet connections, here is the Standard Definition version (130mb). Textures have been reduced and many ingame animations have been removed, however the main content and learning remains the same.

  - Password: FinancialEducation
- Note: users cannot delete their internet cache for the website "https://*itch.io" or they will delete saved game data. While it is not likely that students will delete cache & website date, this is something to keep in mind.

Installable versions (Windows 7-10, MacOS, Linux)

- Due to TpT download link limits, I use an outside provider for sharing installable files.
- Please use this link to download your game key.

  - You do not need to make an itch.io account to be able to download the files via this link.

NOTE: Please do not share any of the above links or passwords, they are intended only for trial purposes.

If you have any questions, have troubles installing, or cannot access any of the above links, please email me at bpratt107@gmail.com.
